PLATOON COMMANDER SCENARIO

COMBAT TEAM BRAVO RESUPPLY

Roughly 5km south of Campbell Town, your lead APC strikes an IED. The driver of the APC has sustained injuries to his back and the Platoon medic assesses it is too dangerous to move him without an ambulance. On top of that, two soldiers have significant head wounds and one is unconscious. You are wary of further explosions or attacks igniting the fuel truck, and the Convoy is vulnerable, stationary in the open on the Midlands HWY. The infantry Platoon remains mounted and are requesting to dismount.

TASK

Write a set of orders for your next course of action on the next page:

SECTION COMMANDER SCENARIO

COMBAT TEAM BRAVO RESUPPLY

You are the infantry section commander of the front APC which has struck an IED, the driver has sustained injuries to his back and two passengers (1x rifleman and 1x gunner) have significant head wounds with one unconscious, this leaves the vehicle commander, who is off the gun and providing first aid to the driver, and 5x section members capable. In accordance with the situation that the PLCOMD has described via a digitally transferred map, your PLCOMD (I32) has issued you a warning order dictating that you will provide immediate dismounted security to the disabled APC on order from the convoy commander.

TASK

Write a set of snap orders for your section in preparation to establish immediate security and start managing the casualties.

Describe what key information would you be providing to your Platoon Commander to support his/her decision-making?
